The Major Program
The East Asian Studies major gives the student an understanding of East Asia and Southeast Asia through interdisciplinary studies, including courses on East Asian countries within the humanities and social sciences. Students are encouraged to pursue study abroad opportunities, as well as other guided studies pertaining to East and Southeast Asia.
The Program. The program offers core courses in East Asian humanities and social sciences, including history, comparative literature, languages, philosophy and religion, political science, sociology, as well as courses in Southeast Asia. Science courses that closely engage the student of East and/or Southeast Asia are also eligible to count toward the major. Along with taking the lower division and upper division subject courses, the student may choose additional courses that concentrate on a specific field of interest, such as anthropology or history, or special courses such as honors thesis, independent study, internships, and study abroad.
Programs, Internships and Career Alternatives. To enhance the student’s understanding of East and Southeast Asia, our majors are strongly encouraged to participate in UC Davis’s Study Abroad Program, which gives students the opportunity to live and experience a culture within East or Southeast Asia. Our majors are also encouraged to work with UC Davis’s Internship and Career Center, which provides customized assistance for EAS students to obtain legislative, legal, and business internships and careers. Likewise, the UC Davis Sacramento and Washington Centers arrange internships and run full-curriculum academic programs in Sacramento and Washington D.C., with a wide range of opportunities for our majors. Graduating EAS majors are prepared for employment in government agencies (such as Foreign Service), state agencies, international or non-governmental organizations (NGO, such as the United Nations), foundations, journalism, teaching, counseling, and consulting, as well as interest in trade, or finance. The broad-based and multidisciplinary components of this major program enhance career prospects in jobs that demand knowledge of cultures of East and Southeast Asia.

A.B. Major Requirements:

Depth Subject Matter................................ 24
Choose 24 units from the following courses: Anthropology 134, 137, 143A, 148A, 148B, 149A, 149B; Art History 163A, 163B, 163C, 164, 190F, 190G; Chinese 100A, 100B, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 190A; Comparative and Regional Development 153A; Comparative Literature 110, 153; Design 1489; Religious Studies 165, 170, 172, 175A; Sociology 147, 188.

Elector Requirements................................. 16
Choose 16 units from the following: Any East Asian Humanities studies (Approved courses: East Asian Studies 190, 192, 194H, 196A, 196B, 198, 198A, 199, 299, 399).

Total Units for the Major .......................... 61-62

Minor Program Requirements: Courses taken for the minor are expected to reflect a predominant interest in East Asia or Southeast Asia. All upper division courses counting towards the East Asian Studies major, may be used to fulfill the requirements for the minor program, as long as they deal predominantly with East Asia or Southeast Asia.

East Asian Studies minor ......................... 20
Choose any five upper division courses from the Depth Subject list for the major, or from the following list: Any Chinese or Japanese Upper Division Course; Any East Asian Studies special course (Approved: East Asian Studies 190, 192, 194H,196A,B,198); Study Abroad Upper Division courses focusing on East or Southeast Asia.

Courses in East Asian Studies (EAS)

Lower Division

88. Korean Society: Late 19th Century to the Present (4)

Lecture/discussion—4 hours. Modern Korean society in late 19th Century to contemporary period emphasizing the perseverance and transformations of traditional social and cultural patterns. GE credit: ArtHum, Div. Writ.—W. Kim

Upper Division

113. Cinema and Society in China (4)

Lecture—3 hours; discussion—1 hour. Prerequisite: one course from History 190C, 193, or consent of instructor. Knowledge of Chinese not required. Viewing and analysis of one Chinese film with English subtitles each week, followed by discussion and short essays.

192. East Asian Studies Internship (1-12)

Internship—3-36 hours; term paper. Prerequisite: upper division standing and consent of instructor. Work experience in the East Asian Studies field, with analytical term paper on a topic approved by the in-charge professor.

194H. Special Study for Honors Students (1-5)

Independent study—1-5 hours. Prerequisite: open to students who have completed Chinese 113. GE credit: ArtHum, Div. Writ.—S. S.

Ecological Management and Restoration

[College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences]

Faculty. See Plant Sciences, on page 514.

The Major Program

This major is designed for students who are interested in understanding how to manage and restore wildland and rangeland plant communities. Courses are selected to provide an interdisciplinary background that encompasses ecology, applied plant biology, and the social sciences. Students will acquire a core understanding of natural and managed ecosystems and how they function, interact with the natural environment, are connected with human society and social change, and are restored and managed.

The Program. The curriculum provides depth in the ecological and botanical sciences directed toward an integrated understanding of how communities and ecosystems function and how this knowledge can be applied in their management and restoration. Coursework in environmental policy and law expose the students to the social drivers and constraints of ecosystem management. All students gain practical experience through practical field courses and an internship. Students interested in pursuing a career in restoration might consider taking some of the following courses:
