abroad and expect to graduate upon completion of the year abroad should file for candidacy to receive their degree in time; candidacy filing dates are established by the Office of the University Registrar. In most cases, transcripts from abroad may not be received in time to be posted on the student’s UC transcript for UCEAP returnees to be included on the June degree list. Such returning students may register to participate in the June commencement ceremony; however, their graduation date will be in September. Participants in programs that conclude in November or December should file for candidacy to receive their degree in March. Such returning students may be able to register to participate in either the December or subsequent June commencement ceremony. Their graduation date will be in March.

UC Davis Abroad offers a number of faculty-led programs abroad, including UC Davis Quarter Abroad, UC Davis Summer Abroad, and UC Davis Seminars Abroad. These programs enable students to study abroad in non-English speaking environments. Participants remain registered UC Davis students while abroad and receive UC Davis units for their academic work. Students from any major, these programs allow students to choose courses from a wide range of specializations. Programs range from two-week seminars to four-week summer offerings to quarter-long options. All programs allow students to experience the host country’s unique culture through co-curricular activities, such as day-trips to surrounding areas, museum tours, and theatre visits. Many also include field work, internships, or service learning opportunities. Financial aid and scholarships apply. Students may participate in UC Davis faculty-led programs as early as their freshman year, or as late as their senior year. Applicants must have a 2.00 GPA, be in good academic and disciplinary standing, and must fulfill any prerequisites specific to the program courses.

In preparation for UC Davis Quarter Abroad, UC Davis Summer Abroad, and/or UC Davis Seminars Abroad, students are encouraged to take Education Abroad Program (EAP). 90XX or 190XX.

Academic Focus. Students earn 12-28 UC Davis quarter units through 3-6 courses taught abroad. Academic focus varies by program and may include subject area courses, language learning, lab work, internship/service work, and/or practical training. Program lengths range from 10 to 16 weeks. UC Davis faculty leaders teach one or more of the courses of the program, while other courses may be taught or co-taught by adjunct faculty of the host country, under supervision by UC Davis faculty. Students may be able to apply earned units toward their major, minor, language, or general education requirements.

• Internship. Students work for five days per week as interns in Congress, federal agencies, interest groups, trade associations, research institutions, media corporations, museums, or in other organizations related to the interests and objectives of individual students.

Students can choose to take one of both courses below for academic credit.

• Research Seminar. Each student writes a research paper in consultation with Washington Program faculty and graduate fellows. To complete the assignment, students take advantage of the many unique research resources in Washington D.C.

• Elective Seminar Course. Each student may optionally enroll in one elective upper division seminar course taught at UCDC. These courses vary each quarter from among offerings that typically include international relations, history, political science, public policy and other social sciences, the arts and humanities; and science policy. In addition to regular instruction, seminars often include guest speakers, observations of congressional committees and federal agencies, and other relevant Washington experiences.

Courses are taught by UCDC faculty appointed by the various UC campuses, or visiting faculty from the Washington area.

Financial aid eligibility and awards as determined by the home campus is maintained while enrolled in the program, and the aid package can be adjusted to reflect the additional costs of the program.

Summer Component (10 weeks). UCDC also offers a 6-week Summer Program with a credit or non-credit option. The credit option allows students to enroll in courses in addition to working at an internship. Students pay the summer session rates per credit hour plus an application fee. The non-credit option (internship only) has no enrollment fee.

The Program of Study

The honors course of study is designed to enhance the undergraduate experience of highly motivated students in all academic pathways. The University Honors Program (UHP) is an interdisciplinary, campus-wide honors program for top students interested in enhancing their education through special courses, close contact with faculty, and dynamic interaction with academic peers.

General Education Honors courses, seminars, and special study opportunities constitute the course offerings of the University Honors Program. First-year and second-year students in the UHP take six General Education honors courses during their first and second year. Upper division and transfer students complete a variety of research projects and service learning opportunities. All students who successfully complete the program receive transcript notation. Course enrollment is generally limited to 25 students.

Updated program information is available at the UHP website. A complete list of these courses, with course registration numbers, is made available to admitted students through the UHP office.

Only University Honors Program students may register for the courses in University Honors Program (HNR)

Courses in Davis Honors Challenge (HNR)

University Honors Program

Both options allow students to participate in many educational, cultural, historical and social activities.

University Graduation Requirements

- All prospective applicants should carefully plan their course programs in order to satisfy university, college, and major/minor requirements for their degree.
- Although units and grade points earned at UCDC are incorporated into the University transcript and GPA calculations, departments and programs retain the right to determine which UCDC courses will be accepted in satisfaction of major and minor requirements.
- All degree candidates must meet the University Graduation Requirements. Offered in alternate years.
- Students who have not finished all of their degree requirements following completion of their participation in the UCDC program may satisfy the University residence requirement by completing at least 35 units on the UCDC campus immediately preceding entry into UCDC.
- Students who want to participate in UCDC for the subsequent year. Upper division and transfer students will not exceed 225 units prior to their departure and may do so within the 225 unit restriction.
