

GENERAL APPEAL

General Appeal

A Petition for General Appeal may only be submitted for processes or deadlines governed by the Office of the University Registrar; e.g., registration and enrollment status deadlines, fee refunds for Cancellation/Withdrawal, PELP, etc.

Readmission and admission decisions are not governed by the Office of the University Registrar.

Any student who has missed the Readmission deadline needs to contact their college advisor directly rather than completing a General Appeal form. Additionally, those wishing to submit an appeal regarding their admission decision must appeal in MyAdmissions (<https://myadmissions.ucdavis.edu/applicants/>) directly.

When reviewing appeals, the General Appeal Committee looks at the student's entire record and any support documentation provided as to why the student missed a particular deadline. As such, there is the expectation that when submitting an appeal the student has a substantive and supported reason for the appeal; e.g., medical or family emergency, administrative error, or other extenuating circumstance. Appeals submitted without appropriate merit or supporting documentation are denied.

Submit questions online regarding the General Appeal process to the Office of the University Registrar (<https://registrar.ucdavis.edu/about/contact/>).

Submit a General Appeal

Online: using your Kerberos ID and passphrase, complete the General Appeal webform (<https://registrar-apps.ucdavis.edu/forms/secure/Form.cfm?Form=GA>).

If you do not have an active UC Davis computing services account, complete the paper form (http://local-resources.ucdavis.edu/local_resources/forms/D006-general-appeal.pdf) and submit it to the Office of the University Registrar.
